

CONTENTS

Introduction by Johnson Kent Wright xiii

Translator's Note xxvii

Chapter One

How Candide was raised in a noble mansion, and how he was driven away 1

Chapter Two

What happened to Candide among the Bulgars 4

Chapter Three

How Candide saved himself from the Bulgars, and what became of him 7

Chapter Four

How Candide met his old philosophy teacher, Doctor Pangloss, and what had happened to him 10

Chapter Five

Tempest, shipwreck, earthquake, and what happened to Doctor
Pangloss, Candide, and Jacques the Anabaptist 14

Chapter Six

How they had a beautiful auto-da-fé in order to put an end to the earthquake, and how Candide was flogged 18

Chapter Seven

How an old woman took care of Candide and how he got back his beloved 20

Chapter Eight

Cunégonde's story 22

Chapter Nine

What happened to Cunégonde, to Candide, to the Grand Inquisitor, and to a Jew 26

Chapter Ten

In what difficulty Candide, Cunégonde, and the old woman reached
Cadiz, and how they boarded a ship 28

Chapter Eleven

The old woman's story 31

Chapter Twelve

More about the old woman's misfortunes 35

Chapter Thirteen

How Candide was forced to leave lovely Cunégonde and the old woman 40

Chapter Fourteen

How Candide and Cacambo were greeted by the Jesuits of Paraguay 43

Chapter Fifteen

How Candide killed his dear Cunégonde's brother 47

Chapter Sixteen

What happened to the two travelers with two girls, two monkeys, and the savages known as Oreillons 50

Chapter Seventeen

Arrival of Candide and his valet in the land of Eldorado, and what they saw there 55

Chapter Eighteen

What they saw in Eldorado 60

Chapter Nineteen

How they got to Surinam, and how Candide came to know

Martin 67

Chapter Twenty

What happened at sea to Candide and Martin 74

Chapter Twenty-one

Candide and Martin approach the French coast and argue 78

Chapter Twenty-two

What happened to Candide and Martin in France 80

Chapter Twenty-three

Candide and Martin reach the British coast, and what they see there 94

Chapter Twenty-four

Paquette and Friar Giroflée 96

Chapter Twenty-five

Visit to Lord Pococuranté, a nobleman of Venice 102

Chapter Twenty-six

A dinner that Candide and Martin shared with six foreigners, and who they were 109

Chapter Twenty-seven

Candide's journey to Constantinople 114

Chapter Twenty-eight

What happened to Candide, Cunégonde, Pangloss, Martin, etc. 119

Chapter Twenty-nine

How Candide found Cunégonde and the old woman 123

Chapter Thirty

Conclusion 124

Suggested Reading 131